CANDIDATE FOR AUDITOR SOUGHT BY GOV. HORNER

Selection To Be Made Before Deadline Monday

By Robert P. Howard
Associated Press Staff Writer

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—(P)—Governor Horner today turned his attention to the selection of a candidate for auditor to join his partial slate in the April primary campaign against the ticket sponsored by the Kelly-Nash regular Democratic organization.

Arrangements have already been completed for Horner candidates for lieutenant governor and state treasurer.

Those under consideration for the auditorhip included:

Alexander Wilson of Cairo, the governor's administrative assistant and legislative expert.

Marion Hart, former state's attorney of Franklin county.

Arthur S. Smith of Bloomington, chairman of the state liquor control commission.

James T. Igoe of Chicago, former congressman.

Pleading inability to take time for a personal campaign, L. P. Bontoy of Quincy, chairman of the state aeronautics commission and a close personal friend of Mr. Horner, said he could not oppose Auditor Edward J. Barrett for the Democratic nomination.

The governor then surveyed the field of possibilities and indicated he would enter a candidate at the deadline for primary filings at 5 p.m. Monday.

Announcing support of Senator Earl B. Seary of Springfield as the Republican candidate for auditor, Walter W. Miller of Quincy withdrew as an announced candidate without filing petitions.

Miller was business manager of the old Quincy White and later head of the state automobile and oil inspection divisions. He commended Seary's record as minority leader of the Senate and his militant stand against the New Deal at a time when it was politically unpopular to pursue such a course.

MAN RISKS HIS LIFE FOR $3: NEARLY LOSES

Bloomfield, Mo., Feb. 21.—(P)—William Barkham risked his life for $3 and almost lost.

A discussion of the possibility of swimming in frozen Cedar river led to Barkham's acceptance of 3 to 1 odds. A hole was chopped through eight inches of ice and he plunged in, but not until a light line was tied to his wrist at the insistence of a companion. The line saved his life. Coming up, he missed the hole in the ice and was unconscious when pulled out.

CHALLENGE GUFFY ACT
Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—A brief contending "Congress has no power under either the commerce clause of the taxation clause of the constitution to regulate the production of bituminous coal or the intra-state sale thereof" was filed in the Supreme Court today by Kentucky coal companies challenging the Guffy act.

The brief was presented preparatory to arguments March 11 on validity of the legislation. The Kentucky operators lost in the Federal District Court for Western Kentucky.

Fred Stettler Confesses To Clock Slaying

Switzerland-Born Chauffeur Says Robbery Motive For Crime

Log Angeles, Feb. 21.—(P)—Fred Stettler, 25, Switzerland-born chauffeur, confessed tonight to Police Capt. Bert Walls that he killed a boarding house couple with a hammer, strangled the parrot guarding their money box and arranged a time clock device to set the room afire.

The stoic prisoner said his need for money was the motive, reported Mrs. Walls, head of the homicide squad.

Capt. Walls quoted Stettler as relating he called at the boarding house Carl S. Barbour, 66, operated at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and killed Mrs. Barbour by smashing her head with a hammer.

Then he waited for Barbour to return from an automobile parking lot he operated next door. He crushed Barbour's skull with the hammer when Barbour came in at 10:30 p.m. the detective said.

Marion Hart, former state's attorney of Franklin county.

Arthur S. Smith of Bloomington, chairman of the state liquor control commission.

James T. Igoe of Chicago, former congressman.

Pleading inability to take time for a personal campaign, L. P. Bontoy of Quincy, chairman of the state aeronautics commission and a close personal friend of Mr. Horner, said he could not oppose Auditor Edward J. Barrett for the Democratic nomination.

The governor then surveyed the field of possibilities and indicated he would enter a candidate at the deadline for primary filings at 5 p.m. Monday.

Enforcement Will Help

Prompt arrest of traffic violators, hit-and-run drivers and others whose recklessness contributes to traffic accidents has been found to be a good means of reducing such accidents. In Detroit, where traffic law enforcement has increased 61 per cent in effectiveness, tolls of injury and death from traffic accidents have dropped 14 per cent. Other cities are found to show a corresponding ratio of results.

Prompt action on the part of authorities in punishing traffic violators has a salutary effect. People are more cautious if they know penalties for violations will be assessed. A recent example of such action occurred in this country when a hit-and-run driver was arrested and given a sentence to the state farm.

Prompt action in minor violations will help to reduce reckless speed, prevent the running of boulevard stops, and the violation of other highway rules. Leaving the scene of an accident without making one's identity known is a serious offense and should be punishment. But punishment of less important offenses will cause drivers to take a sober second thought the next time they are tempted to pass on a curve or run through a red light.

Often times a small amount of care will put a driver in the clear on an accident. If the man who was punished in court here had investigated the accident, sought to do what he could for the victim and reported the matter to the proper authorities, he would have fulfilled the requirements of the law, and would have been a free man today.

Days of the Georges

Back when there was nothing but down on the back of the American eagle, a man by the name of George was ruling in England. He had some colonies scattered along the North American coast which he thought might prove a good source of revenue. King George, for he did have that title, made arrangements to levy some taxes, nothing unusual, but taxes nevertheless.

People living in colonies had other ideas. They didn't like taxes, and they said so. They still feel that way, and they still say so. In the colonies there lived another man named George, a Virginian, born Feb. 22, 1732, and a man of parts. He could farm or he could fight, and whichever he did, he did it well.

George Washington didn't like the taxes George Hanover in England levied. When the British George sent over some troops to help collect the taxes, George Washington collected some troops to help collect the taxes. It was a hard job, involving a lot of suffering at Valley Forge, fighting at Bunker Hill, firing shots that you could hear around the world, and eventually a surrender at Yorktown.

When George Washington finally finished licking George Hanover, they called it the Revolutionary War, and decided it was good enough to serve as a starting point for American independence. They elected George Washington the first president, and he, remembering how he had got tangled up with George Hanover, told the people to avoid future entangling alliances.

George Washington made such a good president that the people decided to keep on having presidents. They also decided to celebrate Washington's birthday once a year, and on this Feb. 22, 1936, we have duly celebrated by writing this article.

New Monroe Doctrine

The Pan-American conference to which President Roosevelt has invited the twenty other republics in North and South America may bring forth a new interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine. The other nations in the Western Hemisphere are dissatisfied with the dictum laid down by President James Monroe that the United States would consider as unfriendly any interference of European nations with affairs of the western world.

The other republics are also resentful of the so-called "Theodore Roosevelt corollary" of the Monroe Doctrine, which says that inasmuch as the United States will not tolerate interference of Europe in American affairs, it must also assume responsibility for keeping the American house in order.

Now that other republics in the west are full-grown and believe themselves capable of assuming a share of international responsibility, they are bargaining for a joint Monroe Doctrine that will make all of the 21 republics equally responsible for the maintenance of an America-for-the-Americans doctrine. They feel that the United States should not be so paternalistic and carry all the load, and they do not like the idea of having Uncle Sam use the big stick to keep them in good behavior.

The new idea is being talked behind the scenes in western capitals; it calls for the co-operation of all for the defense of any American nation that is attacked from outside. Perhaps it is just as well that the United States now share the protective doctrine with other republics, and thus create a stronger American union that may some day be sorely needed to check expansion of overcrowded nations of Europe and Asia.

Don't Forget the Women!

It appears that something must now be done about the problem of "forgotten women."

And "forgotten women," according to Dr. Mary R. Beard, publicist, author, and militant defender of her sex, are those female characters whose part in history and whose contributions to world civilization have never been acknowledged by the men. What is worse, she charges, the foremost historians have almost "totally excluded" women from the picture of world progress.

H. G. Wells, Will Durant, John Eirkine, and Harry Elmer Barnes stand indicted by Dr. Beard. "Barnes, for instance," she asserts, "simply does not know the history of women, or that women have any history to be known. And Barnes is a liberal who wants to do right by women."

The least male historians now can do, she suggests, is to pass out credit where it is deserved.

A Red 'Baedeker'

When Al Smith said in his recent speech: "There can only be one capital, Washington or Moscow," he was not indulging in a rhetorical flourish, but uttering something right "off the record."

The amazing news comes from Washington that Katherine Kellogg, wife of the publicity director of the Soviet Embassy, has been named field supervisor of 4,600 relief workers who are preparing an "American Baedeker" or the WPA at the enormous cost of $1,500,000.

This five-volume work, over which those associated with Red Ambassador Troyanovskiy will have full authority, will set forth in detail the agricultural and industrial resources of every state in the union, with maps of railroads and highways.

To put such an undertaking into the hands of a woman whose husband, because of his position, must necessarily be pro-Russian and pro-Communist is nothing short of an insult to the American people.

Such a book itself is of doubtful value; but certainly to encrust its mailing to the chronicles of an ambassador whose government was lately threatened by President Roosevelt with severance of diplomatic relations because of subversive activities against this government is again indisputable evidence of the communist chiseling that is being wined at high quarters.

BARS

A CCC youth named Roosevelt Dolan is in a Lexington, Ky., hospital suffering with mumps. At last reports, he felt like 50 cents.

When a sentence of 10 days was passed on her for shooting her husband, a Detroit woman wept. But that jury felt pretty small.

Birth of the one-pound Oakland baby is significant. The new generation may be shrinking from the prospect of shouldering the U.S. debt.

In the Chicago underworld, it seems to be the custom on Valentine Day, to send flowers.

IT FAES TO ADVERTISE

LENDING AN ADDED GAIETY TO THE OCCASION

fore groups of workers over the country.

Organizers of industrial unions, beset by attempted inroads of crafts unions seeking their members, are especially eager for him. The United Rubber Workers claim to have added 4000 members since Lewis addressed their meeting in Akron.

Attempts are being made by Lewis and the Committee for Industrial Organization to merge the three chief automobile workers' unions into one strong industrial union, but the ambitions of three existing sets of officers appear to be a hindrance to the committee's desire to make its first big drive in the automobile field.

Lewis appears to be coexisting as to how much energy and how much of the miners' $2,000,000 war chest can be put into the industrial union fight now. Much will depend on the supreme court's decision on the Guffey coal act, which Lewis fathered and which is a bulwark for his union.

Incidentally, size of the U.M.W. war chest is due to the fact that Lewis levied special assessments on members for November and December. Assessments usually cause dissension and probably never before had a labor leader had the nerve to levy one in the two months before a union's annual convention.

The fact that there wasn't a yip about it demonstrated the firmness of the Lewis grip on the miners' union.

The impression grows here that Lewis won't walk out of the A.F. of L. and that the A. F. of L. can't and won't oust the miners.

People's Forum

This Department is Conducted by Our Readers. The Opinions Given Are Theirs.

To The Editor,

Journal-Courier Forum.

I see so many wise men's suggestions in the papers these days that I am encouraged to make a few, wise or unwise, myself.

First, it strikes me that the world would be more contented if we had a universal coin based on gold with a sufficient amount of alloy to make it practicable for coinage, which would have the same value in the world.

Of course we would have to have trade moneys of different denominations of paper, silver, and copper, thus making it more safe for men to borrow, loan or trade.

If we old men could get a pension, or something near what Townsend is trying for, we would take thousands of people off of state and federal relief. Give us a square deal, as we have been the main stay of the country for sixty years, but have gradually been forced into seclusion without any credit anywhere.

The soldiers' bonus should be paid as soon as consistently possible, which would help to take many thousands of relief. The nation should remember that the army and navy have to back everything, right or wrong.

The poor people of the country need a brisk circulating medium of exchange and prices and over-production will adjust themselves as usual.

Why should people on relief be compelled to buy so much inferior food, or nothing? What is charity?

Hitler says democracy is dead. Which is certainly true as long as the moneyed men of the world can buy it.

I believe the U.S. government should take the lead in all public projects of importance to everybody. How many people have been taxed to poverty in this city for the use of everyone? I thank God there was wisdom in this nation to start a system, with all its virtues and vices, to save the poor from starvation in a land of plenty. Starvation would have been unconstitutional.

Estimate 50 Pet. of Veterans in County Have Sought Bonus

Plan Another Evening of Aid for Applicants; Total Cash for County $650,000

Of the 1,500 world war veterans in Morgan county, about half have filed out applications for their bonus. Plans are under way for another filling of applications at the Legion home, with Legionnaires and stenographers co-operating to help veterans get their applications properly filled and sent to the right authorities. Severe weather interfered with the work on the two previous evenings, when about 300 applications were made out. The date for another gathering of applicants will be announced later.

The local Legion post has sent in about 300 applications, which go to various points, depending whether or not the veteran has borrowed on his certificate and from what regional office the loan was made. Other posts in the county have also handled applications, and the Service headquarters at the Jacksonville state hospital is handling the applications of disabled veterans there.

Service Officer Homer Bradney said yesterday that the 300 veterans at the hospital have been finger-printed. Work is going forward on the applications, for some of which considerable information must be collected. The amount of money to be received by each veteran at the hospital will be larger on the average than the amount for other veterans in the county.

This is true because the disabled veterans, as a rule, have not borrowed on their certificates, as they have been receiving compensation. It is estimated that the total amount to be received by veterans in the county will be about $650,000.

Duplicates of applications and fingerprints taken at the Legion Home are being kept on file there. If at any time a veteran should need hospitalization or other services, the complete record will be on file and available for use in meeting his needs.

While we usually choose tender steaks for planked dinners, I have served planked Salisbury steak with excellent effect. Always broil the meat before transferring it to the plank, which must be well oiled and very hot. If you like thick steaks cooked rare, broil about eight minutes before putting it on the plank to finish cooking.

Another point to keep in mind is to put the piping of potatoes around the edge of the plank before you transfer the steak from the broiler to the plank. Finish cooking in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) until the meat is done and the potatoes are lightly browned.

Daily Menu

BREAKFAST: Sliced oranges, cereal, cream, buckwheat pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Corn souffle, stewed tomatoes, Melba toast, canned peaches, coconut cake, milk, tea.

DINNER: Planked porterhouse steak with vegetables, head lettuce with Russian dressing, open apple pie, milk, coffee.

over with butter for flavor.

Since the potatoes are specially prepared for using on a plank, perhaps you will need the recipe.

Duchesse Potatoes

Four cups hot sliced potatoes, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 4 egg yolks, 2 tablespoons cream.

Beat egg yolks slightly with cream. Add butter, salt, pepper and beaten egg yolks to potatoes and beat until light. Pipe with a pastry bag or drop lightly from a spoon to form a border close to the edge of a hot buttered plank.

Open Apple Pie

Line a deep pie dish with plain pastry. Cover with 3 cup sugar. Pare apples and cut in halves. Arrange in prepared pie dish, cut side up. Sprinkle with 1 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Pour over 4 tablespoons thick cream and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for ten minutes. Then reduce heat and bake until apples are tender but not broken.

Oil Plank Thoroughly

Be sure the plank is very hot and well oiled before you put anything on it. Oil it with a sweet unsalted oil while heating it and then when ready to add potatoes and steak, brush it

If you are serving a dinner planned to please the menu, add a salad of head lettuce with Russian or Thousand Island dressing and finish up with an open apple pie.

Sprinkle apples with cinnamon and sugar and pour over about 4 tablespoons thick sour cream before baking. Such an open apple pie is a rich dessert that seems to appeal especially to men.

At 7:30 p. m., the regular services will be cancelled in order that all who may wish to attend services in the Baptist church in recognition of the coming of the Rev. R. E. Best as the newly elected pastor. The Rev. Best succeeds the Rev. W. R. Johnson deceased.

His condition was not as serious as at first thought. There was no fracture of the skull. He is now making satisfactory progress toward recovery. Mr. Smith is a veteran of the World war.

Carthage Rambles Over Blueboys; Crimsons Spill Athens 28-21

Blueboys Hold Carthage For Just One Half

Van Meter Shoots Works At Carthage But Redmen Win By 37-27

Illinois College again attempted to hold Carthage with a mixed line-up of regulars and reserves for one half, and then win a ball game with some fresh players, but Carthage had just as many fresh players and a few more capable basket shooters, and ran up a 37 to 27 win over the local collegians last night on the I. S. D. court.

For one half the Blueboys stuck close to Carthage, at one time even taking a lead of 11-8, but they couldn't hold it, and Carthage went to the dressing room with a hard earned 16 to 14 margin. Then Hanson and Bingamian cut loose and the Redmen stormed out in front, clinching the game along about three-fourths of the way through the final half when they rolled up a ten point lead, and the Blueboys could do nothing to cut it down.

Hanson, the Carthage center, led the scoring with 13 points, while Bingamian was next in line with 10 points. Mason was right up with the leaders, scoring nine points, but these three boys bore the brunt of the scoring attack.

Playing without Cecil Fletcher, who was home in bed with a severe cold, the Blueboys wound up their home season with a defeat, but showing some improvement. Louis Lester, captain, who was forced out of the game because of pneumonia, was among the spectators.

Virgil Fletcher was the high point man for the team, with 11 points. The Blueboys tried hard all the way, but didn't have the man-power to match the shifting Carthage line-up.

Greenfield District
Schedule Arranged
Roodhouse And Scottville
To Open Four Day
Schedule

Greenfield, Feb. 21.—Superintendent H. R. Girhard, manager of the Greenfield district tournament, has completed the time schedule for the tournament which will open here Wednesday night of next week, February 26.

Roodhouse and Scottville will meet in the first game of the tournament, at 7:30 p. m., and Greenfield and Patterson will tangle in the second game of the opening round. Hillview and Girard will meet in the first game of the Thursday night session and Modesto and Palmyra are booked to meet in the second game.

For one half the Blueboys stuck close to Carthage, at one time even taking a lead of 11-8, but they couldn't hold it, and Carthage went to the dressing room with a hard-earned 16 to 14 margin. Then Hanson and Bingamin cut loose, and the Redmen stormed out in front, clinching the game along about three-fourths of the way through the final half when they rolled up a ten point lead, and the Blueboys could do nothing to cut it down.

Hanson, the Carthage center, led the scoring with 13 points, while Bingamin was next in line with 10 points. Mason was right up with the leaders, scoring nine points, but these three boys bore the brunt of the scoring attack.

Playing without Cecil Fletcher, who was home in bed with a severe cold, the Blueboys wound up their home season with a defeat, but showing some improvement. Louis Lasier, captain, who was forced out of the game because of pneumonia, was among the spectators.

Virgil Fletcher was the high point man for the team, with 11 points. The Blueboys tried hard all the way, but didn't have the man-power to match the shifting Carthage line-up.

Winchester Beats Bluffs Five 45-17

By Dillon Graham

Associated Press Sports Writer

Washington, Feb. 21.—(P)—Walter Johnson, Jr., 20-year-old son of the one-time speed ball king of the Washington Senators, is going to have a chance to start along the trail blazed by the "Big Train."

The strapping 6-foot-3 youngster had promised to take him south next week for a training camp trial with the Philadelphia Athletics.

"I'm very happy over this opportunity and I'm going to give Connie Mack everything I've got," young Walter said. "But I know I'll never be as good as dad. They don't come that good very often."

"Father's record certainly gives me something to shoot at but it's beyond my fondest dreams ever to even approach the heights he reached."

Walter, Sr., had no part in his son's arrangement with the A's.

"I haven't told father," the boy said. "I guess he won't know anything about it until he reads the papers."

The youngster, with his wife and month old daughter, lives here while his father lives on a farm near Germantown, Md.

"I know he'll be glad because he's often told me he wanted me to get into baseball," Walter, Jr. added.

Weighting 195, he bears a strong resemblance to the "Big Train."

Young Walter has no hopes of breaking into the big leagues as quickly as his father.

"I need experience, so I guess the A's will farm me out for a while," he remarked. "If I can wear a Philadelphia uniform within five years I'll be satisfied," adding he hoped it wouldn't take that long.

Young Walter hasn't played much baseball because his father advised against it until he was older and stronger. He pitched for his high school team three years ago and last summer hurried for the AAA as a member of the Panthers' winning 30 to 17 decision.

Ashland took a 9-2 lead in the first quarter, but the Red-Heads came back to trail 12-9 at the end of the first half. Ashland put on a third quarter spurt which sent them into the lead 22 to 19, and they wound up with the game almost completely in their control. Ashland reserves won the curtain raiser 20-9.

Proof Of Birth By Pension Applicants
Is Often Difficult

Many Old Records Brought Forth To Establish Facts;
Bible Favorite Depository

Can you prove you were born? The fact that you are here makes little difference. If you are applying for an old age pension. But it does make a lot of difference whether or not you have an authentic record of your birth. Some pension applicants for pensions at the Morgan county office discovered that fact, and many are having considerable difficulty.

All of those who made such applications were born in the days when most records were kept in the family Bibles and there was little or no official record of birth. The law will accept family Bible records provided they are properly certified. A photocopy of such records is suggested as the best means of putting them before the law.

Many family Bibles have been brought from Canada and abroad. One record was written in pencil, and the date of birth was expressed in the city form, whether in pencil or with a pen and ink.

Other accepted records of birth include information on marriage certificates, insurance policies, army records, and vehicle registrations, etc. However, the Illinois authorities will not accept any records that have not been properly certified.

Local notaries of the police are filling out and notarizing pension applications, taking their information from the ever records the applicants make known, and whom the necessary making affidavits to support the statement.

"We Cut Ourselves
Out of Prosperity"
Declares Jim Daly

Law of Supply and Demand
Explained to Rotary by U.C.T. Leader

"When the people living within these United States return to the Golden Rule, the present depression will end and property return to the people," declared James G. Daly, Supreme Counsellor of the U.C.T. In the old days of being fair, "Measle your town by the number of happy families on your face streets, when you extort more than your fair share, you will soon pass out of the picture. Practice the old sports of being fair.

"We cut ourselves out of prosperity," he said. "We should continue to every man, to make a fair profit without the knowledge or city hall next Thursday evening to get consent of the owner. The carcass of the program machinery in action, that was hauled away, and only a trail of blood was left to show where the thieves operated.

The hand of the animal was found, said Deputies Etowah and Cook. The project has been delayed on account of the bad weather, but now it is thought to make an investigation. The depth of the log had been knocked in, persons tied the hand and the carcass probably cut the head and the carcass probably cut in half, so that it could be carried by field up the work. The project includes C. Captain E. P. Hougham, LeRoy Craig, E. Pete Harris, Allen Crane, L. F. O'Donnell and Elmer O. Sample.

Mr. Daly opened his address by stating that the business world is governed by the law of supply and demand and not demand and supply created and then they may be first.

He said, "that goods must be first after supply has been created. After supply has been created, there will always be a demand." The speaker said, "Do you know that there was one overcoat made for each eleven men in the country?"

Today he said, people are taking about industry, absorbing 30,000 men unemployed, or nearly 100 per cent of the number employed during peak times. In addition, he said that during peak times there were 10,000,000 on farms or a total of 30,000,000 relatively employed. He stated that there were 10,000,000 unemployed people in the United States, 3,000,000 of them on relief.

Mr. Daly said that the depression started when business men started cutting prices which in turn lowered wages. "We cut ourselves out of prosperity," he said. "We should continue to every man, to make a fair profit without the knowledge or city hall next Thursday evening to get consent of the owner. LARGE HAY SUPPLY EASES WINTER FOR LIVESTOCK ON FARM

Urbana, Ill.—Horses and the millions of other livestock on Illinois farms need not suffer from lack of hay during the record cold of the winter, according to stockmen of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Hay supplies for each animal unit are high compared with the supply for the past five years, they said.

Soybean hay, more plentiful as a result of the marked increase in the acreage of this crop during recent years, can be used to good advantage for the 660,000 horses and mules in the state, it is pointed out by E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist of the college. Horses subsisting entirely upon stalk fields and straw stacks in a winter such as Illinois has been having may well be given a small allowance of soybean hay each evening, he recommended.

On some farms soybean hay has been the principal roughage for horses for 20 years or more. In many cases soybean hay has been the only kind used for several years, Robbins said.

Soybean hay that was fairly mature when cut seems to be the best, in the opinion of experienced horsemen. It should be fed in moderate amounts so that the horses will clean up all but the coarsest stems. If too much soybean hay is fed, a horse may get so many beans as to cause undue laxativeness from too much oil.

Soybean hay is just as good for horses when they are working as when they are idle. Brood mares and colts also thrive on it. The hay is high in protein and thus helps to balance the roughages which are low in this respect. When horses are working hard, corn is the only grain fed on some farms using soybean hay. On other farms some oats are also fed. In either case the results are good.

PENGUINS CANNOT FLY They Usually Walk Slowly.

WALK Briskly STRAIGHT ACROSS STREETS

straight across the street.

"There is little question that there is an ever-present need to impress on school children the importance of crossing streets in the proper manner. Too often their attention is elsewhere and they are too prone to walk slowly and heedlessly or else to dash headlong across the intersection without first stopping and looking to see if the way is clear. Once school children have been thoroughly trained to make such crossings in the proper manner, there unquestionably will be a substantial gain in the lamentable number of child injury and deaths."

"The February poster," Mr. Tomlinson continued, "is another in the social series based on characteristics of birds and animals as a special method of gaining child attention. This month a number of penguins are portrayed; their ambling, shuffling gait being used as a sharp contrast with the proper method of crossing which is to walk briskly

"We Cut Ourselves Out of Prosperity" Declares Jim Daly

Law of Supply and Demand Explained to Rotary by U.C.T. Leader

"When the people living within these United States return to the Golden Rule the present depression will end and prosperity return to the nation," declared James G. Daly, Supreme Counselor of the U.C.T., in an address to members of the Jacksonville Rotary Club yesterday. His subject was "The Law of Supply and Demand."

Mr. Daly was introduced by John W. Merrigan, after J. N. Conover had introduced number of U.C.T. members who were guests of the club. E. O. Crabtree presided.

Mr. Daly opened his address by stating that the business world is governed by the law of supply and demand and not demand and supply.

He said that goods must be first created and then they must be sold.

"After a supply has been created, there will always be a demand," the speaker said. "Do you know that last year there was one overcoat made for each eleven men in the country?" he asked. "There was only one hat made for each four men and one coat made for every 30 children."

The speaker said that during the past year there were only 14,000,000 persons employed in industrial plants, today he said people are talking about industry absorbing 13,000,000 unemployed, or nearly 100 per cent of the number employed during peak times. In addition he said that during peak times there were 10,000,000 on farms or a total of 30,000,000 gainfully employed. He stated that there were 10,000,000 untrained people in the United States 3,500,000 of them on

To Push Meredosia Recreation Program

Deputies Investigate Theft of Hog from Clarence Mallicoat Farm

Thieves equipped with a hammer and knives visited the farm of Clarence Mallicoat south of Arcadia Wednesday night and butchered a 300 pound hog without the knowledge or consent of the owner. The carcass then was hauled away, and only a trail of blood was left to show where the thieves operated.

The head of the animal was found by Deputies Strowmatt and Cook when they went to the farm Thursday to make an investigation. The deputies said the hog had been knocked in the head so that it could be carried by two men. The trail led from the pasture to the highway where the meat was loaded into a truck or automobile.

Washington's Fine Traits Summarized In Assembly Talk

Prof. Joe Patterson Smith Talks at High School on Great Patriot

Professor Joe Patterson Smith of the faculty of Illinois College in his address upon "George Washington The Student" at the High School Assembly yesterday morning declared Washington the most magnificent character in all history. As he developed his theme the speaker spoke of Washington as one of the greatest students and of the finest of character, one whom we will commemorate as long as there is a United States.

Professor Smith was presented to the student body by William Vickery of the History department of the High School as a student of Washington wonderfully well qualified to bring the message of that great patriot's life to the pupils.

In his address Mr. Smith told of the early life of Washington, as a surveyor, as a lover, his failure to win Sally Fairfax, his attempts at poetry and his enjoyment as a horseman.

"As a student in many of his attempts he was not a success but the one great characteristic was his desire to attain a complete knowledge of any subject which held his interest and most every branch of learning and culture fascinated him to the extent that he pursued it until he became nearly letter perfect. This fact is recognized by all students."

"When he was Commander in Chief of the Army, he visited the camp at Boston and observed that it excelled in cleanliness. Upon calling for the commander, Daniel Green, he found the fine system that was used and praised the officer. Henceforth Washington studied this and recommended it to the other camps. Thus we observe that he was one who desired to perfect all things and that with the aid of his officers such as Green in Boston and Alexander Hamilton in New York he won the cause for his country."

Professor Smith urged the students as they were allowed time to study, to read all literature concerning this great man. To follow his example of striving for perfection, also to note that with all of his honors and achievements for his country, he was always modest and cultured in all of his attainments. Thus he honored throughout this country and all innovation.

As a student in many of his attempts he was not a success but the one great characteristic was his desire to attain a complete knowledge of any subject which held his interest and most every branch of learning and culture fascinated him to the extent that he pursued it until he became nearly letter perfect. This fact is recognized by all students.

When he was Commander in Chief of the Army, he visited the camp at Boston and observed that it excelled in cleanliness. Upon calling for the commander, Daniel Green he found the fine system that was used and praised the officer. Henceforth Washington studied this and recommended it to the other camps. Thus we observe that he was one who desired to perfect all things and that with the aid of his officers such as Green in Boston and Alexander Hamilton in New York he won the cause for his country.

Professor Smith urged the students as they were allowed time to study, to read all literature concerning this great man. To follow his example of striving for perfection, also to note that with all of his honors and achievements for his country men, he was always modest and cultured in all of his attainments. Thus is he honored throughout this country and all nations.

New Commander to Assume Charge at Camp Jacksonville

Capt. E. F. Houlehan Arrives to Succeed Capt. Hayes Who is Retiring

Camp Jacksonville yesterday had 2 commanders—one who is taking charge of the activities of the 200 men enrolled there; the other preparing to leave the Civilian Conservation Corps service.

Captain Forrest F. Houlehan has arrived to become commander of the camp, and Captain W. B. Hayes is preparing to leave Monday on a 30 days leave of absence. On March 20 he will leave the CCC and return to private life.

Captain Houlehan comes here from Camp Eldred in Greene county where he has been the junior officer in charge of activities there. Previous to his service at the Greene county camp he was in charge of a company in the Fort Brady district in Michigan. He is a field artillery officer.

The new commander is 45 years old, and has a family. His wife and daughter are now in Chicago and expect to join him here at a later date.

Captain Hayes took charge of Camp Jacksonville last Nov. 6, and has made many friends here. The camp under his direction has continuously improved in grounds, buildings and personnel.

In returning from the service Captain Hayes announced that he will devote his time to business interests, including a coal mine in southern Illinois. Captain and Mrs. Hayes are former residents of Champaign.

Washington's Fine Traits Summarized In Assembly Talk

Prof. Joe Patterson Smith Talks at High School on Great Patriot

Professor Joe Patterson Smith of the faculty of Illinois College in his address upon "George Washington The Student" at the High School Assembly yesterday morning declared Washington the most magnificent character in all history. As he developed his theme the speaker spoke of Washington as one of the greatest students and of the finest of character, one whom we will commemorate as long as there is a United States.

Professor Smith was presented to the student body by William Vickery of the History department of the High School as a student of Washington wonderfully well qualified to bring the message of that great patriot's life to the pupils.

In his address Mr. Smith told of the early life of Washington, as a surveyor, as a lover, his failure to win Sally Fairfax, his attempt at poetry and his enjoyment as a horseman.

As a student in many of his attempts he was not a success but the one great characteristic was his desire to attain a complete knowledge of any subject which held his interest and most every branch of learning and culture fascinated him to the extent that he pursued it until he became nearly letter perfect. This fact is recognized by all students.

Wheat Values Average Higher

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, Feb. 21.—(P)—Trade reports of increased apprehension regarding the outcome of the 1936 domestic winter crop did a good deal today to make wheat prices average higher.

Adding to wheat market firmness were assertions current that the domestic carryover of old wheat this season is apt to be of questionable quality, and that even though a good crop is raised there should be a demand for the first run of it. Some estimates placed new export business in Canadian wheat at more than 1,- 000,000 bushels, but later advices indicated this total included two days.

Wheat closed uneven, 1/2 off to 1/4 up compared with yesterday's finish.
May 60 1/2, corn 4 1/2 down, May 60-61, oats unchanged to 1/4 lower, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to 25 cents advance.

With a two-day holiday ahead,
many wheat traders evened up accounts and this tended to lift prices.
Despite evidence of standing orders to sell at around 99 cents, May wheat rose at times to the highest point reached on the current movement of prices, 99 1/2. Aside from talk of larger export business in Canadian wheat, the market was more or less stimulated by apparent inadequacy of domestic cash wheat supplies to equal the demand.

quently farmers who use horses for their field work will have the advantage of low cash costs for operation, he said.

Southern Illinois has practically as many horses and colts on farms as five years ago, northern Illinois has nearly as many, but the central part of the state has had a marked decrease in numbers, according to the new census figures.

About forty counties comprising the southern two-fifths of the state east of the Illinois river and south of a line extending somewhat irregularly from Beardstown to Paris now average about 99 per cent of the horses that they had five years ago. North of this line is a belt of about thirty counties extending across the state in which there are only about 85 per cent as many horses as five years ago. This central belt is bounded on the north by a line extending irregularly from Keokuk, Ia., through Mendota, Dwight and Hooper. North of this line is a group of about thirty counties in which there are about 95 per cent as many horses as five years ago.

Guard Is Named In Jury Bill

Homer Talley Charged with

Aiding Escape of John Floss; Day Named as Slayer by Grand Jury.

END FIVE DAY SESSION

Joliet, Ill.—(AP)—James, Day, inmate of Stateville prison, was charged with murdering Richard Loeb, fellow prisoner convicted of the Bobby Franks killing, in an indictment returned today before Circuit Judge Edwin L. Wilson.

Loeb was slashed to death on January 26, during a fight in a prison wash room which Day said Loeb called his "private bath."

The indictment was returned as a result of a grand jury investigation which got under way February 17, the same day that a committee appointed by Governor Henry Horner began a state-wide investigation of prison conditions.

The grand jury also returned an indictment against Homer Talley, prison guard charged with aiding the escape of John Floss, 44, of Chicago, serving one year to life for armed robbery.

Floss was arrested in Chicago Feb. 6, a day after he walked away from the penitentiary. Talley charged he was compelled by Floss, under threats of being "cut up like Loeb," to drive him to Chicago.

Floss, however, said that he and Talley were on "a little drinking bout together" and went on a "joy ride to Chicago after having a few too many." The convict claimed he did not try to escape but that they simply lost each other.

The indictment against Day was returned despite the refusal of four convicts, including Nathan Leopold, slayer with Loeb of the Franks boy, to testify.

Day, in a statement made after the killing, said he slashed Loeb in self-defense after resisting sordid advances.

State's Attorney Will R. McCabe said Day and Talley probably would be arraigned before Circuit Judge Claude N. Saum next Monday morning.

McCabe said he had not yet decided whether he would ask the death penalty for Day. He said he would ask the court to set the trial for March 9.

Talley was indicted on four counts, aiding a convict to escape; rescuing a convict convicted of high crime; permitting a convict to escape; and concealing a convict after escape.

Business Men Need "Helping Hand" Says Speaker at U.C.T. Meet

Jim Daly of Columbus, Ohio, dynamic leader of the United Commercial Travelers in this country and Canada, told more than two hundred members here last night that recovery cannot come until a helping hand is extended to "actual business men."

"For them we have only burdens," Daly declared to delegates gathered not only from Illinois but from several other states. "For more than three years our organization has advocated the establishment of an Intermediate Credit Corporation for the assistance of the small borrower. We do not ask a bonus or bounty. We desire only that provisions be made that the smaller business man—the manufacturer, the mine operator and the merchant—may procure the needed funds to operate his business and employ laborers."

Daly asserted that the plan had been "blocked" by interests working in Washington. He did not divulge the identity of these opponents, but threatened to do so if the credit corporation is not written into the law.

The address of the Supreme Counselor of the U.C.T. climaxed an afternoon and evening crowded with activities for the visiting members and Jacksonville Council and Auxiliary. Daly has been here since Thursday, addressing luncheon clubs and spreading good will that is symbolic of the organization of salesmen, which in recent years has been opened to all business and professional men.

The Supreme Counselor was introduced at last night's banquet by Judge William E. Thomson, who presided as toastmaster.

Hosts to Visitors

Beginning with an initiation of candidates in the afternoon, the Jacksonville Council and Auxiliary were hosts to many visitors, including state officers from Missouri and Wisconsin. The initiatory degree was conferred by a team from Champaign.

The following men were initiated in the order: Arthur French, Law Enforcement Goveia, H. L. Caldwell, William Hunter, Chris Hicks, Rev. Frederick D. Stone, Harlan A. Williamson, Edward Gale Bridgewater, George Lukenan, Charles M. Starn, R. J. Conover, Dr. W. H. Newcomb, Dr. T. O. Hardisty, Albert Hayes, Roy Barnard, Earl Smith, C. Y. Rimbey, J. W. Martin, Fred Kuhne and Keith Montgomery.

Farm-Home Program

Holding its first meeting on Tuesday February 18, the newly appointed committee for setting up a coordinated extension program in agriculture and home making in Scott County elected Royal Oaks, of Bluffs, as chairman. Roy Coon of Winchester, as vice chairman, and officially started its work. The meeting was held in the Farm Bureau Office with 29 of the 27 committee members present.

Farm Adviser George H. Reid will serve as secretary.

Present at the launching of the committee's work were J. C. Hackleman and Miss Dorothy Iwes representing the extension service in agriculture and home economics of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. They outlined the scope and work of the committee and the need for a coordinated extension program in this country.

The project is a continuation of the program coordination work that was in progress in Illinois for a number of years but that was interrupted by various emergency activities that have come up since the spring of 1933. Both the national planning and discussion projects being launched by the U. S. Department of Agriculture are incorporated by a part of the county project.

Members of the Committee are:

Royal Oaks, Bluffs; Roy S. Coon, Winchester; Wilbur R. Gibbs, Winchester; Mrs. Howard Hurrelbrink, Merritt; Mrs. Roy Coon, Winchester; David Leonhard, Bluffs; Mrs. Charles Krusa, Naples; Mrs. Roy Kaltischek, Winchester; J. P. Wright, Manchester; Jack Coulas, Winchester; Mrs. William Herring, Winchester; Dr. Wm. O'Reilly, Winchester; Mrs. P. H. Vanier, Bluffs; P. H. Vanier, Bluffs; Father J. J. Sullivan, Winchester; Dr. J. Daily Speaks

Visiting officials were introduced and showed an attendance from several states. Grand Counselor States of Peoria was among the officials present. Each year the Jacksonville Council sponsors a large rally and sends out several hundred invitations.

Supreme Counselor Daly in his address said in part:

"No organization has any right to exist unless it renders a definite service to the community, the state and the nation. The fact that the United Commercial Travelers indemnifies its members for the loss of time occasioned by accident is not enough. We must have a real program that considers the needs of our members and the need of the nation.

"With an undivided sentiment eager to help restore business, our national course has invariably struck business by competing with it and refusing to consider salesmen or business men. True—we faced a serious condition three years ago and every move made to provide relief was necessary and commendable, but the hour struck long ago when there should have been work provided and relief ended.

We view with alarm the constantly growing debts of our government and say without fear of contradiction that we are providing a burden for our children that will make their problems greater than ours ever was.

"Our government needs the assistance of every clear thinking American. It must have your support and advice. On every hand it is assisted by theorists and selfish interests.

"It has tried many plans. It does not matter how we have regarded the plans before they were instituted. Our only feeling now is that the unsuccessful should be disregarded and the nation set upon the historic faith of self help and honest opportunity."

Highways In Parts Of Illinois Not Cleared Of Snow

Ice Formations Cause Much Trouble To Motorists Is Report

The Jacksonville Auto Club reports that continued cold weather with additional snow has prevented maintenance crews from entirely clearing central and northern Illinois highways. Ice formations cause much trouble to motorists on all northern Illinois highways beginning from about twenty-five miles north of Jacksonville. In central and southern Illinois there is a little packed snow on the pavements but there is no serious trouble, as most of the road is clear.

Ice formations in the Illinois, Mississippi and Ohio rivers prevent the regular operation of ferries and this condition will probably continue for some time.

At Meredosia, on route No. 104, the Illinois River bridge is closed daily, except Sunday, from 7:00 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. No detour is available. For this reason traffic to Quincy is being diverted via Beardstown and Mt. Sterling or through Pittsfield and Kinderhook, both of which are paved. The route via Pittsfield is a little shorter.

In Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Washington, D. C., and other eastern sections report from two to five inches of snow and while none of the highways through that territory are closed, many of them are slippery.

The remains were removed to the Wolfe & Mackay Funeral Home in Roodhouse and will be returned to the Aldridge home Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Tabernacle Baptist church, White Hall.

Burial will be in the White Hall cemetery.

REDUCE JUDGMENTS IN CASE AGAINST ALLAN COLE ESTATE

Judgments against the estate of the late Allan Cole sheriff of Sangamon county were reduced from $1,500 to $4,000 Friday by a decision of Judge Victor Hemphill presiding in circuit court here.

Three parties had obtained judgments by a jury's verdict, as follows: Edward Sheridan (now deceased), Margaret E. Sheridan, $2,500, and Robert Sheridan, $4,000.

Judge Hemphill yesterday granted a new trial to Edward C. Sheridan. Previously he had granted a new trial as to Margaret E. Sheridan and overruled a motion for a new trial to Robert Sheridan. Attorneys T. J. and Frank R. Sullivan, representing the Cole estate, said they would appeal as to Robert Sheridan.

The suit was an outgrowth of an accident in which Sheriff and Mrs. Cole were killed and the complainants were injured. The complainants filed suit for $30,000.

The next meeting will be all day Saturday, at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Riggs, Thursday, Feb. 27.

Mr. Ida Wyatt, 511 North East street, has arrived home from Miami, Florida, where she has been visiting with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Wilson.

The next meeting will be all day Saturday, at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Riggs, Thursday, Feb. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Wilson are the complainants' attorney.

Business Men Need "Helping Hand" Says Speaker at U.C.T. Meet

Jim Daly of Columbus, Ohio, dynamic leader of the United Commercial Travelers in this country and Canada, told more than two hundred members here last night that recovery cannot come until a helping hand is extended to "actual business men."

"For them we have only burdens," Daly declared to delegates gathered not only from Illinois but from several other states. "For more than three years our organization has advocated the establishment of an Intermediate Credit Corporation for the assistance of the small borrower. We do not ask a bonus or bounty. We desire only that provisions be made that the smaller business man—the manufacturer, the mine operator and the merchant—may procure the needed funds to operate his business and employ laborers."

Daly asserted that the plan had been "blocked" by interests working in Washington. He did not divulge the identity of these opponents, but threatened to do so if the credit corporation is not written into the law.

The address of the Supreme Counselor of the U.C.T. climaxed an afternoon and evening crowded with activities for the visiting members and Jacksonville Council and Auxiliary. Daly has been here since Thursday, addressing luncheon clubs and spreading good will that is symbolic of the organization of salesmen, which in recent years has been opened to all business and professional men.

The Supreme Counselor was introduced at last night's banquet by Judge William E. Thompson, who presided as toastmaster.

Hosts to Visitors

Beginning with an initiation of candidates in the afternoon, the Jacksonville Council and Auxiliary were hosts to many visitors, including state officers from Missouri and Wisconsin.

The initiatory degree was conferred by a team from Champaign.

Claude Thomas acted as toastmaster for the banquet, which was attended by 135 fathers, sons and guests, and introduced the following program:

Robert Bingham, Scott Recreational Director—outline of the recreation program for Wincheter.

Selection by Quartet—Ralph Jones, Richard Horbeck, Miss Martha Waid, and Miss Dorothy Nelson, accompanied by Miss Alberta Mapes.

Vocal solo—Miss Gene Hart.

Toast to the Fathers—Judge L. Alan Watt.

Vocal solo—Ralph Jones, accompanied by Miss Mapes.

Toast to the sons—Rev. F. V. Wright.

Vocal solo—Miss Louise Frost, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Coulta.

Introduction of Judge Wright—Norbert L. Hutchens.

Address by Judge Wright.

The affair was sponsored by the Baptist Sunday school classes taught by Mr. and Mrs. Oren Robertson.

Home Farm Program

Holdings its first meeting on Tuesday, February 18, the newly appointed committee for setting up a coordinated extension program in agriculture and homemaking in Scott County elected Royal Oakes, of Bluff, as chairman, Roy Coon of Wincheter, as vice chairman, and officially started its work. The meeting was held in the Farm Bureau Office with 20 of the 27 committee members present.

Farm Adviser George H. Reid will serve as secretary.

Present at the launching of the committee's work were J. C. Hackleman and Miss Dorothy Iwes representing the extension service in agriculture and homemaking of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. They outlined the scope and work of the committee and the need for a coordinated extension program in this county.

This project is a continuation of the program coordination work that was in progress in Illinois for a number of years but that was interrupted by various emergency activities that have come up since the spring of 1933. Both the national planning and discussion projects being launched by the U. S. Department of Agriculture are incorporated by a part of the county project.

Members of the Committee are:

Royal Oakes, Bluff, Rev. S. Coon, Wincheter; Wilbur B. Gibbs, Wincheter; Mrs. Howard Hurrelbrink, Merritt; Mrs. Roy Coon, Wincheter; David Leonhard, Bluff; Mrs. Charles Krusa, Naples; Mrs. Roy Kalschus, Wincheter; J. P. J. H. S. Debaters Lose To Pekin

Drop First Decisional Meet In Contest Friday Afternoon

J. H. S. debaters were tripped up yesterday afternoon in their first decisional strife as the Pekin negative defeated May Butler and Jane Dunlap, local affirmative. Ralph Dunlap, Barbara Butler and Bill Clark practiced in a "no-win" tilt with a Pekin affirmative.

"Almost five years ago just when the horizontal business era was about to start, we called attention to the national shame which had discarded the old principles of quality and service and was destroying business by price cutting. We told our nation that such a course must inevitably grow through a course of starvation wages and into total unemployment. We have seen our prophecy fulfilled to the very top of the bitter cup."

"At the same time we said that unless the nation again acknowledged that 'every man is entitled to a fair profit whether it be for his labor or his merchandise' that ruin would come to countless business men and destitution to millions of workers. You may remember if decide if this be true today."

"With an undivided sentiment eager to help restore business, our national course has invariably struck business by competing with it and by refusing to consider salesmen or business men. True—we faced a serious condition three years ago and every move made to provide relief was necessary and commendable, but the hour struck long ago when there should have been work provided and relief ended. With the exception of state-aid roads, most of the country roads throughout the state are still closed with snow drifts and ice formations. Some secondary highways and county paved roads in the northern and northwestern part of the state are also blocked.

Iowa and Minnesota are still digging highways out of snow drifts and frequent local inquiry should be made in all sections where the snow has been heavy.

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jake Battfeld the past week a daughter, the tenth child.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldo Heiman visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hansmeier Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Roy Gerard was called to the home of his brother, Roy Homer, near Beardstown last week by the illness of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Homer.

Three parties had obtained judgments by a jury's verdict, as follows: Edward Sheridan (now deceased), $4,000 Friday by a decision of Judge Victor Hemphill, presiding in circuit court here.

The afternoon program was opened by the group singing America, followed by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Roll call was answered with a health hunt. Mrs. Frances Heaton, club chairman of public health and child hygiene, introduced the following speakers for the afternoon. Mrs. Leeper, the county health nurse; Miss Leona Ware, district health nurse; and Dr. Ball, a state doctor.

Dr. Ball gave the main address, which was enjoyed by the members.

Mrs. Inn Whitlock, club chairman of civil service, then introduced Mrs. M. S. Zachary, Jacksonville, who spoke on "Civil Service." After leading in an interesting contest, the hostess served light refreshments.
